

- Barrel: The metal part of the dart where the grip is, typically the heaviest part of the dart.
- Bullseye: The center of the dart board, also called bull or double bull for the red inner circle.
- Bulls out: Winning a game by hitting a double bull.
- Busted: Exceeding the number of points needed to go out.
- Check out: When a player hits the exact number of points needed to win the game.
- Double: When a dart lands within the dart board's double outer ring.
- Double in: Hitting the double area at the start of a game.
- Double out: Hitting the double area at the end of a game.
- Flight: The tail of a dart that lets it cut through the air and float.
- Game on: The call for silence at the start of a darts game.
- Game shot: The winning shot.
- Good group: A compliment for extremely accurate, tight darts throwing.
- Grand slam: Hitting the triple 20, the triple 5 and the triple 1.
- Hat trick: Hitting the bullseye with all three darts in one round.
- High ton: Scoring between 151 and 180 points within one round.
- Hockey: The line players stand behind to throw their darts.
- Leg: A single game within a match of darts.
- Match: A series of complete darts games.
- Patriot: Hitting a needed triple or bullseye with the first dart.
- Perfect score: Scoring the maximum 180 points in a single round.
- Pie: Any of the numbered wedges on a dart board.
- Points: The pointy end of darts that can be steel-tipped or plastic.
- Round: Any three-dart turn.
- Shaft: The middle of a dart that screws into the dart's barrel and holds the flight.
- Shanghai: When a player hits the triple, double and single of the same number within the same round.
- Ton: A score of 100 points.
- Ton-eighty: Another name for scoring 180 points or a perfect score.
- Tops: Hitting a double 20.